1. Planning

- a. Are there well thought out storyboards? Do they include timing?

- b. Is there a task list and shot list?

2. Maya Organization: Are the project folder and scene files well organized? For example:

- a. Is there a single Maya project containing all of the scene files?

- b. Open up one of the main scene files (not one that is referenced but one that contains animation keys)
 - i. Are the objects referenced or are they imported?

 - ii. Are the objects clearly named?

- c. Is there a separate Editing folder containing the final images?

3. Animation:

- a. Framing and Staging: Is the camera placed in a way that makes the action clear?

- b. Animation: Comment on the quality of the animation – is it awkward or smooth, is there good gesture, is it convincing, does the timing work, etc.

4. Sound:

- a. Discuss the interaction of the sound and animation. Eg. Describe the sound and how it is used. Do the sound and animation work together? How does the sound contribute to the story? Etc. Please explain.
